store

Scanning of all types of approvals and POD's and automatic inclusion to the system using OCR.

FEATURES

- 1 Archive generic and approval delivery documents easily and safely thereby saving time and money.
- 2 Automatic recognition of documents without added handling work needing.
- 3 Chaotic archive based on boxes and bundles system to facilitate both the daily management and the subsequent location of an original.
- 4 It works digital copies of the documents as if there were originals: reprints, email sending, etc.
- 5 Maximum information for scanned items for the entire organization.

How to save personnel costs while increasing the chances of customer service? Can I give customers all the information required while saving time to the company? With M-SCAN we say yes, it is a product specially designed for maximum profit with minimum investment product.

Added values of M-SCAN

Archive chaotic documents immediacy of physical location. Physical archive processes on their own and other documentation of the company, can take too long to company staff. The cost savings derived from a digital file system makes your ROI (return on investment) becomes very fast. Cost optimization and search and location times of own internal and external documents are the basic values of M-SCAN.

Check the timing of customer complaints. The quality of service provided to customers by giving them an immediate response to their questions, gives the company an added value apart from its competitors. With M-SCAN your customer service operators can locate during the call time, the delivery note signed by the recipient and from the workplace send it by fax or mail.

Avoid loss of documents.

The wrong document archiving, can be enough to definitely lose it. With M-SCAN, this cannot happen, because it automatically encodes the store place.

Decrease the number of photocopies.

When a customer requests a document, it is generally not necessary to be the original, except (statistically less than 0.1%) legal needs. The usual procedure is to make a photocopy rise grayscale and send it by email or fax. With the solution of the electronic documentary file M-SCAN we minimize production costs and increase quality, image and decisive agility of the company.

Concurrent access to information.

Another problem that arises certainly work with physical file is that files can only manage who has access. With e-file, the entire organization, regardless of the place of work, will be able to manage and give integral service. Moreover, being able to scan from any delegation, the availability of documents is immediate for the entire organization.

Chance of publishing images on the websites of consultation.

Having scanned all documents electronically, we can make customers can obtain directly through web, so let loose to Customer Service departments, with consequent structural savings. MYMSOFTERP application can also provide interactive websites both customers and correspondents.
